The Importance Of Encouraging Western Settlers

The many advantages that would accrue to Canada from the settlement of the vast unoccupied fertile agricultural lands in the West are fairly well recognized by all people, yet the work of peopling these vacant lands languishes and proceeds almost at a snail's pace.

There is hardly a Canadian problem today, the solution of which, wholly or largely, is not to be found in a large increase in the population of the country.

Is it the huge national debt created by the war and the consequent heavy burden of taxation? The solution is not so much in decreased expenditures or never and additional means of revenue, but in a larger number of people to produce new wealth and to carry a share of the national load, thereby reducing the burden all round.

Is it the problem of making the National Railway pay? The solution is not to be found in higher rates for passengers and freight, which would operate to further decrease traffic, nor solely in economies in management and operation, to which there is a limit if efficient service is not to be destroyed, but through increased population and increased production creating greater traffic to keep the railway profitable.

Is it a steady outlet for our factories and uninterrupted employment for Canada's artisans? The solution is more people in Canada requiring the output of our factories.

Older countries, already blessed with fairly large populations, can well depend upon the natural increase of their people. But not so a young country like Canada, an empire in itself covering half a continent and possessing untold wealth in untouched natural resources. Canada now requires, and for many years to come will require, just what the United States required throughout the Nineteenth Century, and that is a large and steady stream of immigrants. The United States, with its more than one hundred million people, can now afford to check the stream, but Canada needs to encourage it.

In the ten or fifteen years before the war, immigration poured into Canada at a rate never experienced prior to that time. The mere handful of people in the West doubled, tripled, quadrupled; unorganized territories became flourishing provinces; hamlets grew into towns, towns were transformed into thriving cities. Why? Because the incoming settlers brought money and goods with them, settled on vacant lands and began to produce. As they produced new wealth from the soil, the demand for the factory products of the East grew by leaps and bounds. Factories which had remained at a standstill in volume of production year after year, or grew so slowly that it was almost imperceptible, suddenly found it necessary to build a new store, an addition, or a new building altogether in order to meet the demand. Labor was at a premium and unemployment practically unknown. The railways were congested with more traffic than they could handle. More railways had to be built, and thus more employment was created. The mines were busy and so was the lumber industry. It was all directly traceable to the immigration and the enormous resultant increase in agricultural production.

With so recent an object lesson before the country it is amazing to find a very large number of people opposing immigration to Canada now when, in order to carry the burdens imposed on the Dominion by reason of the war, the need for more people and largely increased production is so evident. Restrictions have been placed on immigration to Canada which were undreamed of a few years ago, and are of such a character that, as one speaker at a recent public meeting said, had they been in force at the time our parents and grand-parents immigrated to this country, probably one-half of the people now here would not be here. Stringent as present restrictions are, there is persistent demand in some quarters that they be made even more stringent, while some advocate absolute prohibition of immigration.

Possibly the immigration laws of both Canada and the United States were too lax in the past in one respect in that the bars were not kept up against the admission of the diseased, the mentally and morally deficient, and the criminal class. All such should be rightly excluded. But lack of money should not be made a deterrent to anybody who is physically fit, morally sound, and mentally efficient, capable and willing to work.

In another respect, too, Canada was at fault in the past in its treatment of new comers. It is not sufficient to induce people to come to assist in the development of the country and on their arrival to leave them to shift for themselves, which so often led to failure and shipwreck of their lives through ignorance of the conditions and customs of the land of their adoption. A recent little "Manual of Citizenship" issued by the Department of Immigration and Colonization for the guidance of new arrivals is, therefore, an encouraging innovation. In fact, the change in name from Department of Immigration to "Immigration and Colonization" is in itself significant as an indication of a new and better policy. It is important, however, that the work of immigration should not be stopped nor checked by too tight laws and regulations. On the contrary increased efforts should be put forth to secure new settlers of the right type.

England Wants More Hens.
England needs 2,500,000 more hens in order to get back to the estimated consumption for 1913 of 120 eggs per person, asserts Edward Brown, secretary of the National Poultry Council. Mr. Brown says that in the United States and Canada it is stated the average consumption is nearly 200 eggs per unit annually. Based on his estimates on the recent census figures for Great Britain, he computes that each person in England last year ate 93 eggs.

Persistence of British Post.
An instance of British postal delay but an equal testimonial to its persistency, was the delivery at Prince Albert to J. Harris, an Imperial veteran, of a packet of cigarettes mailed him while he was engaged in the South African War, from England in 1902. The package indicates that during the 18 years rambling it has been to India, New Zealand, and nearly all over the globe.

More Acres Sowed To Rye

Estimated That Crop of 1922 Will be Larger

It is estimated that Southern Alberta and Southern Saskatchewan are this year seeding about 850,000 acres to fall-planted rye, as compared with 550,000 acres last year, an increase of about 500,000 acres, or about 135 per cent. It is further calculated that, given an average yield per acre, the rye crop of 1922 in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan will give the farmers of these districts three or four million dollars more than they will receive this year.

THE ORIGIN OF GALL STONES

They are simply dried bile made up of crystalline constituents of that fluid. Very common is this disease among merchants, clerical men, shop girls and those of sedentary habits. Prevention consists in maintaining correct action of the liver and bowels, and this is speedily accomplished by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No person using Dr. Hamilton's Pills will be subject to bilious fits. Sound digestion, good appetite, a clear color will evidence the health giving properties of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are safe and best for general family use. Wheat Yield in Saskatchewan.
The wheat yield of Saskatchewan is estimated for the present year to be 115,052,000 bushels; oats, 196,120,000 bushels; barley, 13,500,000; flax, 4,000,000 bushels; and rye, 4,653,000 bushels.

MILD EPIDEMIC GOING ROUND

It is due to impurities in the water, causes cramps, diarrhoea, headache. Those who take twenty pills of Nervine in sweetened water usually get quick relief. It is really wonderful how good old Nervine fixes up a sour upset stomach, how it stops hiccoughs, how quickly it puts a stop to those sick attacks. "Every one should keep a bottle or two of trusty old, Nervine on hand," says the doctor.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ARE THE REMEDY FOR KIDNEY ILLS.

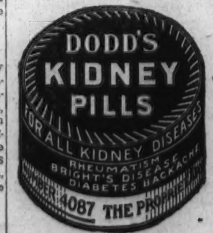

Principal of Saskatchewan Schools Tells Out of His Own Experience What to Do When the Kidneys are Diseased.

Webb, Sask. — (Special). — That there is one sovereign remedy for kidney disease, and that remedy is Dodd's Kidney Pills is the outspoken opinion of Mr. George Hutchings, principal of the public schools here.

"I suffered for two years from diseased kidneys," Principal Hutchings states. "It was advised about a year ago to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have helped me more than any remedy I have ever tried. I find that my health has been greatly improved. I can conscientiously recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney disease. I would not be without them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They help the kidneys to do their old work of straining all the impurities out of the blood. The result is new health and energy all over the body. Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

GOOD HEALTH AND GOOD SPIRITS

Depend Upon the Condition of the Blood—Keep it Rich, Red and Pure.

When a doctor tells you that you are anemic, he simply means, in plain English, that your blood is weak and watery. But this condition is one that may easily pass into a hopeless decline if prompt steps are not taken to enrich the blood. Poor blood, weak nerves, nervous irritability, loss of appetite, poor digestion, rheumatism, neuritis, nervous, irritable, and many other troubles. To poor blood is due the pimples and blotches which mar the complexion that disfigures so many faces. To have good health, a good complexion and a cheerful mind, keep your blood kept rich, red and pure. This is easily done through the use of a blood purifier. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The whole mission of this medicine is to help enrich the blood which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body, bringing with it health, strength and new activity. That is why people who occasionally use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

MS. E. E. Cook, Simcoe, Ont., gives strong testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the blood is in an anemic condition, also says: "I have been a sufferer for some years from a run down condition of the system. I suffered from pains in the back, twitching of the nerves and muscles, my appetite was poor, I had indigestion and would get nervous after eating. My hands and feet were always cold, and though I was constantly doctoring, the medicine I took did not help me. I had practically given up hope of good health, until a friend from Hamilton came to visit me, and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It took some persuasion, but finally I consented to try them. I have reason to be grateful that I did, for after using seven boxes I felt like a new person. I have gained in weight, have a better color and my work is now a pleasure. For this condition my thanks are due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I cannot praise them too highly."

In the third category were placed Argentina, Spain, Brazil, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, whose individual shares were fixed at 3.58 per cent. The scale was graduated downward to .21 per cent, which will be paid by Panama, Paraguay, Salvador, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras and Liberia.

Consideration of an amendment to article 18 of the covenant of the League of Nations, which would exempt technical treaties from registration with the secretariat of the League of Nations, was postponed by the assembly of the league because of the change in the league's effective in breaking up secret treaties through registration.

A. J. Balfour, of Great Britain, declared it was absurd to expect nations that signed a treaty of defense which they were ready to register and make public, to be required at the same time to disclose the means military or otherwise, by which they contemplated making their defense.

Memorial Designs For Battlefield

Canadian Commission Has Received Report From Competitors.

Ottawa.—The Canadian battlefields memorial commission has received a report of the professional assessors upon the competitive designs submitted for eight monuments to be erected on the battlefields in France and Belgium. The competition has been in progress during the past year, and has been participated in by leading architects, sculptors and artists generally. The decision reached by the commission will be communicated to the Governor-General-in-Council, after which the names of the successful sculptor will be announced.

In the first stage of the competition, 160 sets of designs were submitted, and of these 17 were selected for the second stage. The models have all been thoroughly examined by the commissioners.

Instrumental Music And Christian Unity

(By O. E. Payne, Hanna, Alta.)

The dominant issue in Christendom today is the unity of believers. All important denominations, except the Roman Catholics, and nearly all the minor ones, are actively participating in conferences looking to that goal. The discovery of a true and acceptable platform which will serve as a basis for all of these churches, while the removal of any obstacles to such unity is of no less concern. Questions of creed, opinion, form of organization and government, and the title to property are important factors, but in the minds of both fundamentalists and instrumentalists, the question of baptism looms above them all.

There is another issue, not less grave, to which the attention of only the few has as yet been drawn. Only the Latin Church, there are almost as many Christians who reject instrumental music as find it as there are who employ it and regard it as spiritual. Those who oppose it do so from principle. They will not employ it, will not worship of help fellowship with those who do, and they have their scriptures upon the Scriptures.

Such concede that instrumental music was authorized in the Old Testament, but not in the New, and insist that we are to be guided alone by the latter. They hold that there is no affirmative prohibition of this music in the Christian Scriptures, and allege that they are our sole and sufficient guide, and that their supposed silence amounts to a prohibition.

As matters have stood, the thoughtful few have realized that this situation constitutes an impasse that must shortly block all progress towards unity, and that the parties to the instrumental-music question are two or three hundred millions, the largest of the dozen or so bodies which so hold being the Greek Church, to which most Slavs belong, which church is actively laboring for unity.

Many have essayed to point to a way of escape, but it must be admitted that they have left the riddle unsolved. The King James version and the revision which sheds no new light on the former as regards this question, have seemed to confirm the widely accepted instance that the New Testament is silent as to instrumental music, and that such music is an innovation.

But all that is changed by the appearance of a remarkable book which has just been issued from the pen of O. E. Payne, of Hanna, Alberta, which is being received with equal joy by those who have conscientiously refrained from using such music. The book is entitled, "Instrumental Music Is Scriptural," and, in a new masterly way that amazes the best informed of both sides, proceeds to show that the New Testament is not silent upon the question, but that Christians are as distinctly directed to employ instrumental music in praising God as they are their voices in song. The inspired writers employ two Greek verbs, psallo and psalms, to tell us what manner of music to employ. By the consent of all, the first means to sing. As to psallo, the author quotes definitions from a hundred Greek lexicons covering more than twenty centuries, proving that it means to play an instrument. Every important lexicon is included in the long list. Then, to guard against the possibility of the lexicons erring, about one hundred and fifty examples of the use of the word are gleaned from Greek writers of the centuries before, at the time of, and after the period in which the New Testament was being written. About thirty of these excerpts are from contemporaries of the Apostles, in which the context proves to a certainty that the authors used the word to refer to instrumental music.

Having in these and many other ways established the fact that psallo signified the playing of an instrument, and that therefore when, in Greek, Christians are directed to "do and psalms," they are told to "sing and play."

psallo, they are told to "sing and play," the author proceeds to prove that from the first, translators have so understood the words. A century after the New Testament was written the psalms, the first known translation, which Philip Schaff terms "the queen of versions," because of its accuracy, was from the Greek to the Syriac. Throughout it renders the Greek psallo as meaning play instruments. A Coptic translation in like way is also cited.

Four hundred years ago Luther pursued a like course, translating the Greek into "sing and psalms," which, in German, means "sing and play." The several revisions of Luther's great translation continue this rendering as do many other German translations, and all the Danish, Swedish, Norwegian and Dutch translations of this work, which is the outcome of years of research in the libraries of two continents, has earned the thanks of Christendom.

The book is equally adapted to the learned and unlearned, and the author, O. E. Payne, Hanna, Alta., deserves credit for the production of this interesting work.

Oil Light Beats Electric or Gas

Burns 24% Air

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 100 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, cheap, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, F. V. Johnson, 595 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $400 per month.

London.—A Renter cable from Melbourne says that Premier W. M. Premier Hughes thinks the figure quoted is absurd. In his view, the practical position is that from 12,000 to 20,000 might safely be sent out this year.

No Outsiders In U. S. Merchant Marine

One of Best Purser's Discharged Was a Canadian.

New York.—A few days ago, 200 members of the crew of the steamer George Washington were discharged on the 14th of June, that they were not citizens and their places taken by men who could "qualify on that ground." One of the men ousted was W. H. P. Mattenson, a Canadian, who was purser on the vessel. Mattenson was regarded as being one of the best pursers in the North Atlantic service, but the rule of the United States Merchant Marine is "no outsiders need apply."

Victoria, B.C.—Cause of the flooding of the engine room of the steamer Canadian Importer, of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, which disabled the steamer more than six hundred miles off the Oregon coast, while the vessel was en route from Vancouver to Sydney, Australia, still remains a mystery. The vessel was put into dry dock at Esquimalt and this morning an examination of the vessel's hull found her to be intact and her sea valves in perfect working order.

Ottawa.—A conference of veterinarians to discuss the best means of improving the health of Canada's livestock, is to be called, at Ottawa for Nov. 15 and 16. Probably no livestock producing country in the whole world has a better record for freedom from disease than has Canada, said Dr. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, a condition undoubtedly largely due to the inspection system carried on by the department's health of animals branch. The work of keeping Canadian stock free from disease and giving it, an even finer reputation than it now enjoys is not to be done by individuals or small groups in this work, says Dr. Grisdale, which must be done by a centralized organization for all Canada. Accordingly, serious consideration will be given at the forthcoming conference to the formation of a national veterinary association to work in connection with the department.

Representative veterinarians from every province in the Dominion will be invited to attend the conference.

The estimated value of Canadian livestock today is $1,378,562,000, and the department believes that any step to enhance this great national asset must be to the advantage of the whole country.

Great Possibilities For Developing Water Power Of Northern Saskatchewan

The natural resources of the extreme north of the Province of Saskatchewan are dealt with in a report, copy of which has been placed in the Provincial Police to T. M. Molloy, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor and Industries. The report is prepared by Constable Chappuis, lie a la Croix detachment, and deals with the patrol through Northern Saskatchewan along the route of travel from the lake to Croix du Lac and Selkirk.

In speaking of the water power in this northern part of the province, Constable Chappuis states: "Starting at the north end of the lake Croix du Lac, the Churchill River enters Hudson's Bay at Port Churchill. The current is strong, swift and clear, the Churchill Rapids being worthy of note on account of the possibilities of some future development of the tremendous power of water. At the Dipper Rapid, about half-way between lie a la Croix and Souris River, the fall is about 14 feet in 200 yards and a dam could be easily constructed below the rapids as the banks are solid and fairly high. The Drum is another lively rapid, situated near Upper Lake. I consider that these places would be suitable for the development of hydro-energy."

"Lake Athabasca," he continues, referring to the enormous bodies of water in the north, "is the second largest lake in the Province of Saskatchewan, being fully 260 miles long and 50 miles wide. Only three-quarters of it is in Saskatchewan, the other portion being in Alberta, so that Reindeer Lake, which is 165 miles long and 45 miles wide, takes the place as the largest body of water in Saskatchewan."

"Commercial fishing is carried on extensively in the principal lake district," Constable Chappuis goes on, "whitefish, lake trout, tolobes and doras being the most common kinds caught. This industry keeps fully one hundred teams busy hauling fish over the ice in winter to the railheads, most of the fish going to the United States market."

"There is a large variety of fur-bearing animals in this district and the fur trade is the chief occupation, the most numerous fur-bearing animals being muskrat, weasel, mink, marten, fox and beaver. Big game is also plentiful, chief among which are the barren land caribou, moose, woodland caribou and jumping deer. The barren land caribou keeps to the barren land during the summer months and comes south about the beginning of November."

Referring to timber, he states that there is not a great deal of merchantable timber in the district, although between Green Lake and Buffalo Lake there are strips of good spruce standing that would be well worth cutting but would not justify the erection of a big mill. "Forest fires," he says, "have done a lot of damage and have spoiled a lot of good young timber."

"According to the report there are some strips of open land suitable for cultivation, and also meadows where good hay in fairly large quantities can be obtained between Green Lake and lie a la Croix. Thousands of tons of hay go to waste every year, but owing to the fact that there are periodical rains which flood these hay lands, Constable Chappuis believes that until they are drained farming or ranching would be a hazardous occupation in this part of the province."

"Scranton Biggest Coal Centre. More coal is mined annually in Scranton, Pa., than in any other city in the world. Within the city limits there are about thirty-five mines in operation with a yearly output of over six million tons."

The patriotic man is loyal to his country and to the community in which he lives. If he is consistent he will give first preference to Canadian made goods when making purchases. He will also stand loyally by his local dealer.

Evidence Of Life Found On Moon

Astronomers Report Finding Vegetation and Fleecy Mountains.

Dr. C. G. Booth, John H. Chase and T. G. Beede, well-known Ohio astronomers, have announced their belief in the discovery of life on the moon, hitherto regarded as a dead planet. Mr. Beede operates one of the largest telescopes in Ohio. All three are recognized observers.

"We found a beautiful fleecy effect from one mountain to another," said Mr. Chase, "and agreed that one of the mountains we had seen was Aristarchus, from which a cloud extended to Herodotus. We found Aristarchus to be a mountain that glitters, and is composed probably of crystals. We also observed a streak of light with changing colors between it, and Herodotus, which would indicate we had discovered a low form of vegetation."

"We also saw an apparently permanent rock formation, but which we believe might be some substance being thrown out by craters. This fact would further indicate existence of life on the satellite."

Mr. Chase said their study of the moon followed reports by Prof. Pickering, of Harvard, who said he had observed white patches on the edge of the highest craters and fleecy streaks changing in appearance, as well as color changes. According to Prof. Pickering, the white patches denote snow, the fleecy streaks clouds, and the changing colors a form of vegetation.

An Old Bank Account

Former U.S. Senator Made Deposit Over 60 Years Ago.

Along about 1850 or 1859, when Chauncey M. Depew decides to retire from the directorate of the New York Central Railroad and pass his declining years in rest and quiet at Briarcliffe Manor he will have a nice little nest egg laid aside for his old age.

"The first $100 I ever made," he said, "was deposited in the Peasekill Savings Bank at interest. That was more than sixty years ago, the year before the civil war started. It had been there ever since, because I never had the heart to draw it out, although sometimes I needed it badly. I always thought something might happen."

"Then I forgot all about it," the former Senator continued. "The other day I was in Peekskill and dropped in at the bank. I asked them if I had any money there, and an official told me that my old account of $100 was still on the books and had multiplied to $500. He said it was their 'star account' because of its venerableness."

Mr. Depew added that he had an account of $57.50 which he deposited in the Winchester County Bank fifty years ago. This did not draw interest. It is still there and still $57.50. He is going to leave both accounts where they are, he said.

Strict Economy.

An economical housewife told her husband that she would have to ask him for 10 shillings more a week on account of the high cost of living.

"I'll try to give you five," he grumbled. "That's the best I can do. You're pretty extravagant, Amelia!" "No extravagant?" And Amelia laughed bitterly. "Well, James, I don't see how you can call a woman extravagant who has saved her wedding dress for more than 30 years on the chance she may make a second marriage!"—Edinburgh Scotsman

Will Use Tractors To Study Sahara

Caterpillar Drive For Motor Expected To Carry Geologists Over Desert.

The secrets of the Sahara desert which have been revealed to only a few crossing the sandy waste on camel trains north to the south, are soon to be studied by an automobile party under the auspices of the French ministry and the departments of colonies and war.

Recent experiments have convinced the authors of the scheme that it is possible to leave France, Mediterranean colonies in automobiles equipped with caterpillar drives which will prevent their sinking into the sands. The French inventor, M. Kergesse, has improved the caterpillar idea by a wide distribution of the burden so that it will not exceed three and a half ounces a square inch, and certain firms are now constructing a special series of cars for this journey. Each car will carry a reservoir of 200 quarts of petrol with another tank of 1,000 quarts on trailers, which is considered a sufficient fuel supply to reach Timbuctoo without delay.

The party will include several geologists who will study the possibilities of developing the mineral wealth known to exist in the equatorial possessions, but which, owing to the lack of communications, are as yet untouched. If the first trip is successful weekly departures will be arranged.

It is estimated that the Sahara can be crossed in less than a fortnight, while pack train routes following the coastlines cannot be negotiated in less than seven weeks. The ministry of colonies believes that early next year will see the opening of Africa's resources, with a tremendous exodus from the crowded positions of Central Europe if the mails and supplies can be assured of safe transportation.

Prince Rupert Company Takes Over Sawmill

Has Cutting Capacity of 40,000,000 Feet a Year.

The Emerson sawmill at Prince Rupert and its timber limits in this district and several water powers as well, are being taken over by the Prince Rupert Pulp and Paper Company, Limited. The sawmill is located on Prince Rupert Harbor and has a cutting capacity of 40,000,000 feet a year. The plans of the Prince Rupert Pulp Company call for the installation of a pulp mill of 200 tons a day capacity, which will be located alongside the existing sawmill. The first unit being installed is a 10-ton sulphite mill, which it is expected will be completed early next year.

Experiments Have Shown Good Margin Of Profit In Steer Feeding

Each season for a number of years thousands of Canadian steers have been bought on our Western markets, shipped to the Central States and there fed on high-priced land, in districts where labor charges are almost as great as in Canada and where feed is quite as expensive. Farmers in Western Canada should give careful consideration to the matter of making fattening steers part of their regular farm operations. The farmer in Western Canada is close to the source of supply; he may either buy the steers in his own neighborhood or secure them from his closest large market. Every autumn the market is glutted with half-finished cattle, consequently prices are usually greatly depressed at such times. Almost every year great quantities of good oat and wheat straw are destroyed, either by burning or allowing to rot. Coarse grains are often put on the market at sacrifice prices, whereas, were it fed to steers, it would bring more profitable returns. It has been found that charging the grain and other feeds up at highest market prices on seventy-eight animals fattened, the average profit over feed cost amounted to $17.25 per animal.

The first factor that should be taken into consideration is that of securing good feeders. Experiments conducted at Brandon and other places indicate that two-year-olds make the most profitable gains. They should be of good type; that is to say, broad, low-set animals with good strong constitutions and good, mossy coats. The amount of flesh the animals should carry at the time of purchase will depend on the period for which the animals are to be fed, but it is not usually advisable to buy thin animals, first, because this condition may indicate that there is something constitutionally wrong, and second, in outdoor feeding they do not usually prove hardy. Hornless steers are the most profitable. While other steers can be dehorned after purchase experiments conducted at Scott show that there is a considerable loss—much greater than is usually thought—from dehorning. However, since the buyers will usually pay sufficient for dehorned steers to practically cover this loss, it is advisable to dehorn, should horned animals be purchased, as this avoids injury in the feed yard.

The next point that requires careful attention from the feeders is that of feeds. There should be a plentiful supply of roughage within easy hauling distance. This roughage may consist of hay, good oat straw, or, if neither of these is available, wheat straw. In addition to these, sunflower silage has proven a valuable feed for fattening steers by supplying both bulk and succulence to the ration. If field lots are available, they make an excellent addition to hay or straw.

In feeding, regularity is of great importance; the grain ration should be started with light feeds and this should be gradually and uniformly increased. The animals may be started off on two or four pounds of grain per day and increased until they are receiving from twelve to sixteen pounds daily. In order to make good use of the feed, animals should have access to water twice per day or (if a tank water is used, they should have access to the water at all times. Salt should also be given the animals regularly.

The third factor in successful feeding is that of shelter. If a barn, well-ventilated, is available, then it should be used, but it is not essential. A cheap frame shed made of single ply of boards or a straw shelter will do, or, in districts where there is a plentiful supply of timber, the steers may be fed outside. Experiments at Scott have proven that on the open plains the steers made better gains if fed inside under cover than if fed in a corral. Where wheat straw is abundant, as it usually is in the West, the animals should be kept well bedded.

In conclusion, it may be pointed out that the profit will depend, first, on the selecting of good animals at reasonable prices; second, on the gains made during the winter; third, on putting the animals in condition to grade well at market time; fourth, on selling at such a time as will permit securing a good spread between the buying and selling price. It will also usually be found that buying and selling in carload lots is the most profitable method of handling.—By M. J. Tinslie, Scott, Sask.

Butter Scoring Contests

Results Recorded by the Dairy Branch of Ottawa for May, June and July.

This is the third year of the Dominion Educational Butter Scoring Contest conducted by the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. Last year and the year before four creameries in each province contributed a grand total sample each month from May to October inclusive for the competition. This year six creameries in each province are competing, a different creamery each month from May to October serving as a sample. The scores for the first three months, May, June and July, of this year show Manitoba and Alberta leading with an average of 96.7 points, Quebec next with 96, Nova Scotia following with 94.5, Saskatchewan with 94.3, British Columbia with 94.2, Ontario 93.7, New Brunswick 93.6, and Prince Edward Island 93.3. Manitoba leads in flavor with the others according to score except that British Columbia is eighth and Ontario ninth. The average per cent. of salt added at churning was 2.37 pounds, the average per cent. salt in the butter was 1.45. Tasting shows that from 1 to 1.4 per cent. salt is about right for the export trade. In the opinion of the judges the texture, incorporation of moisture, and salting so far this season are more uniform than in previous contests. The average per cent. of moisture in the butter it should be stated was 14.65. The color, however, varied from almost white to a deep June shade.

And He Got It.

An English schoolmaster promised a crown to any boy who should produce a riddle that he could not answer. After many had tried, a bright youngster said, "Why am I like the Prince of Wales?" The schoolmaster puzzled his wits in vain, and was finally compelled to admit that he did not know. "Why," said the boy, "it's because I am waiting for the crown."

Not To Be Caught.

Brown was a testy fellow, and if there was one thing more than another that he hated it was to be caught. As a consequence, he was very suspicious of any deed or word the meaning of which he could not understand. Once when he visited a manor house he had an interesting chat with one of the keepers, and as he was about to leave the man asked: "By the way, sir, have you seen our black-faced antelope?" "Ah," thought Brown, "he's trying to make a fool of me. 'No,' he replied stiltily. "May I ask with whom your black-faced antelope eloped?"

A Handsome Ermine Wrap

By Marie Belmont.

A sumptuous fur wrap is always a serviceable addition to the fashionable woman's wardrobe. This season there are many appealing creations in styles that are decidedly distinctive. This model is made of ermine. It is elaborated with a tipping cape that swings from the back of the collar. The sleeves are very wide at the cuff. A most striking effect is attained by the use of a black for collar. This reaches almost to the waistline, decreasing in size as it reaches this point. The black fur is also introduced on the lower edge of the cape, where it accentuates the ripples.

The National Crisis

"My appeal is to the whole people; to every man and woman who wants to do right by this country; to everyone who breathes the spirit of our fathers who founded this British Dominion."

—ARTHUR MEIGHEN

THE Election to be held December 6th will be the most momentous in Canadian history; for as men and women vote will depend the economic stability, the political stability and, indeed, the national stability of this country.

Today we find group striving against group, class against class, the industrial and financial structure of the country assailed by false and unsound doctrines and theories, while our great neighbour to the south has adopted a trade exclusion policy directed against Canada's vast agricultural interests.

The currencies of nearly every country in the world are depreciated. The Canadian dollar in the United States is subject to a heavy discount causing a loss of over one hundred million dollars in exchange annually.

Europe is overwhelmed with war debts—unemployment is acute—and the restoration to pre-war conditions is slow.

While Canada is in a much more favorable condition than many countries, yet there is evidence of stagnation, instability, unemployment and lack of confidence.

Taxes are heavy because of the country's efforts in the Great War, but have become burdensome on account of the misconceived policies and blunders of Governments that directed Canada's affairs prior to 1911.

These conditions are largely the direct aftermath of the war, but they must be dealt with fearlessly and constructively. This is no time to consider experimental changes, or the theories of visionaries.

This is no time for Crerar and his Free Trade policy. This is no time for King and his wobbling "charted" policies, varying with each provincial boundary.

It is the time to cling to orderly, stable Government in the interest of all the people; to be guided by the experience of the past, proceeding upon lines that have been proven sound.

It is the time to place the destinies of Canada again in the hands of a Government led by a sane, courageous Canadian who has safely brought the country through the trying years of reconstruction, and upon whom we can rely to retain and initiate policies in the interest, not of a group or class but of all the people.

It is the time to support Arthur Meighen and his Candidates.

Meighen will lead us through
